

Heatherstone Homeowners Association Rules

Redistributed May 2018

General:

By necessity a community such as Heatherstone is a collective. This is reflected in the laws that apply to our type of community. It is also reflected in our past and current Declarations, Bylaws, Articles and Rules.

By purchasing a unit at Heatherstone, you have agreed to accept certain limitations and rules to promote the community continuity and common good, maintain the community aesthetic and protect property values. What a unit owner, resident, renter or guest does in regard to their property and conduct has a direct effect on everyone within our community.

Each unit owner has a duty to the community and their neighbors to know and follow the Declarations, Bylaws, Article of Incorporation and Rules and to make those known to their residents, family members, guests or renters and to ensure those individuals also follow these requirements.

The HOA is governed by a volunteer Board of Directors, elected by the membership, and who are giving their time for the good and betterment of the community. Board actions are carried out by no less than a quorum of the Board. No one person is making decisions for the community.

The membership should not expect the Board members to act as, and the Board members will not act as, an on call police force for Heatherstone. Each unit owner has a duty to the membership to cordially advise their neighbors, guests or any trespassers of any violations of the Declarations or Rules and to report the incident to the Board.

If someone within the property is doing something that is against a township, county, state, or federal law, the member, visitor or renter has a duty to report the illegal activity immediately to the Clermont county sheriff's office (our local law enforcement authority). In cases of emergency, call 911.

Please refer to the Declarations Article VIII Restrictions and abide by these historical and updated restrictions. The Board, at its discretion, may impose an enforcement assessment on any lot owner in violation of any of the restrictions or rules whether specified below or not.

Today, as in the past, Rules are never to be recorded with the county. Rules are for day to day governing of the HOA and are to be flexible and may possibly change at the decision of a Board of Directors.

Communications to the HOA and Board of Directors:

All complaints or communication to the HOA (other than monies owed) must be received in writing and deposited into the "basement" of the 200 Apples Way mailbox, or mailed to Heatherstone Homeowners Association, 200 Apples Way, Batavia, OH 45103.

Information shared about Rules and Restrictions violations should be submitted in writing and signed.

Requests for information from the HOA must be submitted in writing and be specific as to what is being requested and in what form the information is to be received.
